DETAILED ACTION

1. In response to the communication filed 3/10/05, claims 1-3, 5, 12 and 15 are amended, but the amendment does not alter breadth of the claims. Claims 1-17 remain pending for examination. The rejection cited are as stated below.
2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
3. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hayashi (US. 2001/0054074).
4. All claims remain rejected by the same ground and rationale as presented in the previous Office Action, which hereby incorporated by reference.
5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-17 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In the remark applicant argued in substance that, Hayashi does not store media and non-media component on separate storage devices or server.

Applicant's argument does not commensurate with the claim's language. In other words, the claims' language does not require that storages of servers for serving or storing media content and non-media content, must be physically separated from each other. Examiner believes, nowadays or at the time of applicant invention was made, applicant must be made aware of a single piece of computer hardware could be divided to multiple of logical servers or storage devices. Since the claims' language does not required physical separation, therefore, it has not been considered.

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2143

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
